Optimise your sales force!

YOUR EXPECTATIONS AND REQUIREMENTS

You want:

- To objectively assess your candidates' and colleagues' sales skills, in order to secure decision-making within your recruitment and skills development processes?
- To implement development programmes adapted to your sales team's real needs?
- To fully involve your salespeople in their development, through awareness of their assets and areas of progress?

>> Discover PERF SALES! A decision-making support tool for HR professionals, wishing to assess candidates for sales functions, or exercising salespeople within a development process.

THE MODEL

PERF SALES is a scientific self-assessment tool, built as a sales competency model.

This reference system counts with 39 key behavioural skills indicators for sales people. We statistically identified these indicators based on a randomised population of more than 4600 exercising professionals.

Statistical studies conducted by our R&D researchers, in association with sales professionals, enabled us to clearly define the skills necessary to be more operational in this specific function.

OUR SALES COMPETENCY MODEL

PERF SALES enables the HR professionals to assess the candidate's behavioural ease on:

- Three major steps in the sales approach and key profiles
 - Investigating the client's specific needs
 - Demonstrating by answering the client's needs and convincing them
 - Stimulating commitment by getting the client to accept the offer
- Both major styles of the sales approach
 - Hunter: take risks, aim for efficiency, convince, resist tension...
 - Farmer: persevere, defend a territory, listen, exchange...

THE PROCESS

- 1 A self-assessment questionnaire based on self-image enables you to evaluate behavioural tendencies and main motivation levers at work – a 10 minute evaluation, accessible on Internet.
- 2 The sales skills model is matched with the results of the self-assessment questionnaire.

The results are delivered in a personalised report which presents:

 - Explicit graphs along with qualitative information about success levers and areas of progress.
 - Indicators which enable to evaluate the respondent's style of predilection and adaptation potential.
 - The results of a given sales population which enable to benchmark the respondent's position.
- 3 A one-hour feedback interview provides a deeper investigation of the diagnosis and helps to efficiently orient the development process.

>> PERF SALES is extremely easy to use by HR professionals after attending a short, 2 x 2 hours operational training session, in a virtual classroom, given by a PerformanSe consultant.
